The Biden Regime dropped the iron fist on the private sector last month and required all employees get jabbed or tested weekly for Covid... OR ELSE.

In addition to telling all 2.1 million federal employees to get jabbed in by the end of November or face firing, the Biden regime is forcing all companies with 100+ employees to either test workers or prove they are vaccinated.

Small businesses that do not comply with the Biden Regime's new Covid mandates will face hefty fines.

Democrat governors have also imposed vaccine mandates on teachers and healthcare workers.

Attorney Roger Gannam, VP of Legal Affairs at Liberty Counsel, discussed lawsuits in New York and Maine and what you can do if your employer is demanding you get the jab during an interview on Rose Unplugged podcast.

Roger Gannam said the vaccine mandates in New York and Maine violate the Constitution because there are no religious exemptions.
