Throughout the existence of the scientific process, replicating results has always been a necessary component in order to gain a scientific consensus and gauge the accuracy of the results of whatever test or calculations were conducted, but when the supposedly trustworthy experts find something in the results that doesn't fit the approved narrative – leading them to bury the information – the credibility of the scientific establishment goes completely out the window.

Well, according to one world-renowned cardiologist out of the UK, that is exactly what is happening right now.

A recently released study that was presented at the American Heart Association (AHA) Scientific Sessions Meeting claims the risk of developing acute coronary syndrome (ACS) – a potentially life-threatening condition that leads to an increased risk of heart issues – increases significantly in patients who receive the experimental mRNA COVID-19 vaccines.

Researchers found that the risk of developing heart diseases increases from 11% to 25% in patients who receive the Covid-19 vaccines developed by Pfizer and Moderna using the new mRNA technology.

The study – titled “mRNA COVID Vaccines Dramatically Increase Endothelial Inflammatory Markers and ACS Risk as Measured by the PULS Cardiac Test: a Warning” – was presented by renowned cardiologist Steven Gundry at the AHA annual conference on November 8, 2021, and was published in the AHA medical journal Circulation.

The study concludes that the mRNA vaccines “dramatically increase inflammation on the endothelium and T cell infiltration of cardiac muscle,” which researchers say is likely to account for the increased number of adverse cardiac or vascular events and side effects such as thrombosis, cardiomyopathy, and others in patients post-vaccination.

From the study:

*“These changes resulted in an increase of the PULS score from 11% 5 yr ACS (acute coronary syndrome) risk to 25% 5 yr ACS risk.

At the time of this report, these changes persist for at least 2.5 months post second dose of vac. We conclude that the mRNA vacs dramatically increase inflammation on the endothelium and T cell infiltration of cardiac muscle and may account for the observations of increased thrombosis, cardiomyopathy, and other vascular events following vaccination.”

This is not the only study to have found this result, but it is the only one to have been released.

Esteemed British cardiologist Dr. Aseem Malhotra went on GB News to blow the whistle about how he had been contacted by another researcher from a prestigious British Institution who told him that research done by his department has found similar results, saying they too had found a link between the inflammation of coronary arteries and the experimental mRNA vaccines during their own imaging studies.

Unbelievably, the whistleblower says the institution has decided not to publish the findings, opting instead to hide the results over fears that the institution would lose its research funding.

Malhotra explained that the whistleblower – who is remaining anonymous for his safety – was furious about the decision to bury the findings, especially considering the fact that the latest health data from the UK shows there has been a substantial increase in the number of cardiology-related deaths in the country since the time the experimental vaccine was made available.

"In good science, we never rely on one study. We need to replicate these findings.

*A few days ago after this was published, somebody from a very prestigious British institution – a cardiology department researcher [and] a whistleblower – contacted me to say that researchers in [his] department had found something similar within the coronary arteries linked to the vaccine.

They had a meeting and these researchers at the moment have decided they're not going to publish their findings because they are concerned about losing research money from the drug industry.**

Knowing this information, which is very concerning, [in addition to] Steven Gundry's paper, and also anecdotal evidence...being told by colleagues that younger and younger people coming in with heart attacks.

So what does this mean in terms of the data? We know since July there's been almost 10,000 excess non-Covid deaths and most of those, or a significant portion of those have been driven by circulatory disease – or in other words heart attack and stroke."

While research study results that show this link between the rushed Covid vaccines and damage to the circulatory system in this way have only been coming out recently, it is possible that the mRNA vaccine developers, particularly Pfizer, knew about such possible effects of their vaccines already.

Meanwhile, as “trusted experts” bury their findings of the serious dangers that the vaccines pose, Pfizer CASHES IN to the tune of $1,000 PER SECOND, with an estimated $36 BILLION in profits for 2021, according to their latest quarterly report.

It’s sickening.
