

Advertisements

Plastic Surgeon Tells: "Doing This Every Morning Can Snap Back Sagging Skin (No Creams Needed)"

REPORT THIS AD

NET BREAKING

Wyoming lawmakers plan anti-vaccine-mandate special session

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming lawmakers plan to hold a rare special session Oct. 26-28 to counter President Joe Biden's proposal to require COVID-19 vaccination for certain workers. One proposed bill would impose a $500,000 fine for firing, demoting, promoting, compensating or refusing to hire employees based on vaccination status. Another would fine or jail public servants who tried to enforce federal vaccine mandates.

Advertisements

REPORT THIS AD

Advertisements

Plastic Surgeon Tells: "Doing This Every Morning Can Snap Back Sagging Skin (No Creams Needed)"

REPORT THIS AD

Share this:

Tweet

Share 129

Email

Telegram

Like this:

Like  One blogger likes this.

Claim $4,900 Benefit

All seniors over 65 are due a large benefit this month (it).

Outer Money

10 thoughts on “Wyoming lawmakers plan anti-vaccine-mandate special session”

Vickey Alford
October 19, 2021 at 8:59 pm

Do it! LETS GO BRANDON!

Like

Reply

Patriot
October 20, 2021 at 8:55 am

It is illegal per HIPPA Law for a company to ask medical information of an employee.

Like

Reply

---

Carl BussjaegerOctober 20, 2021 at 9:19 am

Common misconception.

<https://www.law.cornell.edu/uscode/text/42/1320d-6>

Like

Reply

---

Carl Denhardt JrOctober 20, 2021 at 12:46 pm

Another common misconception is that all gun laws are constitutional...

Like

Reply

---

The Old ManOctober 20, 2021 at 12:54 pm

A comment by a true anti-America who doesn't understand Law or the U.S. Constitution. You go with that!

Loading...

Reply

---

KnowledgeMonkeyOctober 20, 2021 at 10:30 am

You can't require a current employee to have any type of medical examination unless the examination is job-related and consistent with business necessity, required by another federal law, or required in connection with a voluntary wellness program. In the old days, pre-ADA, it was common for employers to require employees to get a physical every year, especially at the executive levels. Some employers still do this, but if you do, you should stop unless you meet the ADA requirements. (Probably the simplest solution is to move the "physical" requirement into your voluntary wellness program, but there is always the possibility that some folks will opt out of the program.)

Loading...

Reply

45ACP

October 20, 2021 at 1:36 pm

That does it, I am mandating that every natural born American of sufficient age and mental capability be armed and with sufficient ammo stand ready.

Loading...

Reply

45ACP

October 20, 2021 at 1:37 pm

its for the children

Loading...

Reply

smokeyjarvis

October 20, 2021 at 5:07 pm

Fire Liz Cheney. Vote her out now!

Loading...

Reply

Mortimer Mandrake

October 20, 2021 at 9:40 pm

Praise that rise in reason and rebellion! State rights prevail against tyranny. The people produce, unfettered; government serves them as the peoples' laws define. Terminate bassakwards government over-reach sans reach around.

Loading...

Reply

---

Leave a Reply

Enter your comment here...

Home Video Breaking News Affiliates US Supreme Court declines to stop mandated COVID-19 vaccines for Maine health workers
NetBreaking